Royal Illness Puzzle

Feel Specialists
Not Yet Certain

LONDON, Sept. 18 (CP).—The King has developed a lung ailment that has brought the Queen rushing from Scotland to be with him.

A medical bulletin signed by nine doctors was issued by Buckingham Palace tonight after weeks of hints in the British press that the ailing monarch's health had broken down again.

Medical authorities said the brief bulletin on the condition of the 55-year-old King indicated the specialists might not yet have decided exactly what is wrong with him.

NO DETAILS

The announcement said "structural changes have developed" in one lung, but gave no further details.

A London lung specialist said the wording "suggests that the doctors who signed it are still not sure what is the whole trouble." He said it is certain that "structural changes" means disease, but "there are so many diseases of the lung that it can mean anything."

The bulletin said the King has been advised to stay in London, where he came last week for a thorough medical examination after cutting short a vacation in Scotland.

The Queen, who had planned to stay in London for several weeks at Balmoral Castle, Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh returned to London by plane tonight. A crowd gathered at Buckingham Palace after the King's illness and the Queen's return were announced. But the royal car entered the palace grounds from the rear.

TRIP STILL ON

Princess Elizabeth and the Duke had planned to fly to London tonight in preparation for their departure for Canada September 25.

The King's illness apparently will make no difference in the royal couple's plans. A Buckingham Palace spokesman said there was "no question of cancelling their trip" and that they would leave as scheduled next Tuesday.

The bulletin, issued unexpectedly from the Palace, was signed by physicians who have made close studies of X-ray photographs of the King's chest. It said:

"During the King's recent illness a series of examinations have been carried out including radiology and bronchoscopy."

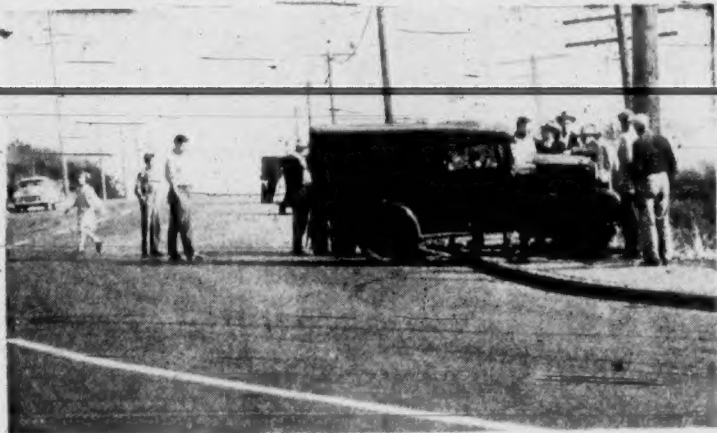

"These investigations now show structural changes to have developed in the lung. His Majesty has been advised to stay in London for further treatment."

ANXIETY HEIGHTENED
The bulletin heightened the anxiety of Britons who have been concerned for several years about the monarch's health.

The King has looked worn and tired in newspaper photographs published in recent months, and there has been much worried comment in the newspapers about this.

An announcement in November, 1948, that the King was suffering from "an obstruction to the circulation through the arteries of the leg" was the first indication that his health was not perfectly sound.

Crash Kills Driver of Old Truck

This old model truck carried Victoria's fourth traffic victim to his death on Esquimalt Road near the E. & N. roundhouse yesterday afternoon.

Troops Sent To Fight Forest Fire

One hundred men from Gordon Head Army Camp left Victoria late last night to aid in fighting the forest fire raging on Mount Benson near Nanaimo.

The men, dispatched in a convoy of army trucks and equipped with rations and firefighting equipment, were ordered to the scene by the assistant adjutant and quartermaster-general of the B.C. area in Vancouver.

The fire, which has already covered 1,500 acres, is being fanned by a strong northwesterly wind. Racing along a two-mile front in green timber, it has chewed through 4,000,000 feet of felled and bucked timber.

THREATENS OPERATIONS

Foresters have warned that if winds continue, the fire will reach property being logged by the Comox Logging Company in the Nanaimo Lake area. Well over 500 men, with bulldozers and power saws are already fighting the fire, believed to have been caused by a careless hunter.

The flames, clearly visible from the streets of Nanaimo, have drawn hundreds of spectators, and unauthorized persons have been warned to stay clear of the fire area. A thick, mushroom-shaped pall of smoke is hanging over Nanaimo.

Allies Seize Vital Peak

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Sept. 19

(Wednesday) (AP)—Allied forces seized a key mountain peak on "heartbreak ridge" today in a bitter battle last night and hurled back two heavy Red counterattacks early today.

The Eighth Army reported earlier that three major hills were taken in the eastern Korean sector Tuesday. It was not immediately clear whether the key peak was one of the three.

Allied infantry smashed into the center of the ridge line north of Yangju after nightfall. Reaching the crest, they swept along the spine of the ridge and broke through Communist defenses extending farther north.

While allied troops were digging in on the bloody mountain top, a company of Communists attacked.

The attack was repulsed in a 30-minute battle.

Extension Seems Remote

Expect Special Session Will Stick to Pensions

By LAWRIE JOSLIN

Possibility that the special session of the legislature, to begin Oct. 22 will be extended to review other issues than the new pension plan now appears remote.

The session was called by the cabinet specifically to get House approval of the plan to pay pensions on an eligibility basis to British Columbians in the 65-69 year age group. It is understood it is the government intention to confine the session to this special purpose.

There have been suggestions, however, that some members may want to open discussion on the controversial issue of the application of the B.C. Power Com-

Car careened to right and struck telephone pole and then overturned on top of driver (shown by cross and paper which covered his body). Vehicle was then righted by bystanders before police arrived. (Colonist photos by Jim Ryan.)

City Man Killed As Truck Rolls

Gavin Sinclair, 28, 550 Johnson Street, was instantly killed yesterday when he was crushed under the truck he was driving on Esquimalt Road near the E. & N. roundhouse.

He was driving an old model light delivery truck which went out of control, struck a telephone pole and rolled over.

Also injured in the crash was Chu Kain, 57, of 515 Cormorant. He suffered an injured hand which was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital. Police say he was sitting beside Sinclair.

ESCAPE INJURY

Mrs. Margaret Patrick, 37, Ontario, wife of sheet metal worker Frank Patrick, was also sitting in the front of the car. She was not injured.

Her husband, riding on top of some junk in the rear of the truck, also escaped injury.

The truck was going toward town from Esquimalt when the accident occurred.

Eyewitnesses said the truck suddenly careened to the right while rounding the turn. It struck a telephone pole and then overturned.

L. Baddeley, maintenance man for a nearby carnival, helped right the car.

Baddeley ran to the overturned wreck and saw people climbing out.

PINNED UNDER CAR
"I looked down and saw a man pinned under the car. I shouted to several people to help me lift the car. It sure looked like he was dead," he said.

George Rier of Vancouver, who was standing at the corner across the street from the accident, said the car approached the corner at about 25 miles an hour.

He described the scene: "All of a sudden it turned into the curb, hit the pole with a crash and turned over. I rushed over and a man was lying on the sidewalk under the car with his head on the curb."

"He was dead when we lifted the car so we covered him with a big sheet of paper from the circus."

V.I. Dairy Farmers Will Storm Board

South Vancouver Island dairy farmers will storm the provincial milk board in Vancouver today to demand a price of $6.72 for 100 pounds of milk.

Seventy farmers decided on the action at a Dunsmuir meeting last night after voting that the $5.90 granted by the board Friday was not enough to keep them in business.

The Friday ruling has raised Victoria milk prices by three cents a quart. If the protest today is successful standard milk in Victoria will climb another cent to reach 25 cents a quart.

Henry G. Robinson, secretary-manager of the Vancouver Island Dairy Farmers' Association, told the meeting that if the milk board did not give speedy satisfaction, farmers would be given a hearing by the provincial cabinet Friday morning.

As a last resort farmers say they will "strike" by turning all their milk into butter. Mainland support of such a strike has been assured, the meeting was told.

Confirm Island Discovery Of Unidentified Wreckage

Planes, Ground Party Going to Investigate

By TREVOR COLLINS

An unidentified crashed aircraft has been found by the R.C.A.F. about 12 miles north of Kelsey Bay on Vancouver Island.

This was announced by Air Force officials last night following a story in The Daily Colonist on Sunday that an American pilot had spotted what he thought was aircraft wreckage.

Flt. Lieut. Hugh Campbell, commanding officer of the Victoria R.C.A.F. recruiting office, went in a helicopter Sunday to investigate the report.

He was unable to find the twisted mass of wreckage in the dense forest, but located the remains of what he thought was a test-made parachute silk on a bluff on Mount Ikusam overlooking Johnstone Strait.

Yesterday the R.C.A.F. dispatched a Canps and ground search party to the scene.

SPOT PLANE

The plane flew over the area and the pilot spotted the tail assembly of a crashed plane near the tent. A ground party has been sent to investigate.

Another Canps with newsmen and Air Force officials will leave Sea Island this morning. They are expected to communicate with the ground party by radio.

The Air Force men on the ground may reach the remains of the plane at about noon today. They have about 30 miles to hike through dense underbrush, and a mountain to climb, before reaching the plane.

They are also expected to search for the remains of the tent seen by Flt. Lieut. Campbell.

The veteran helicopter pilot also spotted what he believed to be a cabin, which may mark the grave of one of the airmen aboard the plane.

Officials think the plane could be the American four-engine Neptune that disappeared without trace on a flight from Alaska about two years ago. There were nine men aboard.

However, identification of the plane and the names of the men aboard will remain an official secret until next of kin have been notified.

This may take some time in view of the time since the accident occurred.

This wreck has not been previously reported by the R.C.A.F., which keeps a record of all plane crash locations.

C.C.L. Repeats Policy Of Complete Labor Unity

VANCOUVER, Sept. 18 (CP)—

Shrugging off a direct blow from Canada's senior and biggest labor body, the Canadian Congress of Labor's leadership today reiterated its policy of complete unity between the C.C.L. and the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

Pat Conroy, national secretary-treasurer of the C.C.L., told its annual convention today that—

Flyer Safe

WINNIPEG, Sept. 18 (CP)—Roy H. Neiswander, sportsman-flyer missing since Sept. 10, has been found.

R.C.A.F. search and rescue officials at Winnipeg said Neiswander had made his way to Dale Clark's camp at Vermilion Bay, Ont., 170 miles due east of here.

End Dispute

VANCOUVER, Sept. 18 (CP).—Hotelmen here today accepted a wage formula settling a dispute which had threatened to close Vancouver's 64 hotel beer parlors tomorrow.

Admissions Favored

By Canada

OTTAWA, Sept. 18 (CP).—Canada lined up with a majority of countries favoring admission of Greece and Turkey to the North Atlantic Pact today but Denmark forced a halt in this No. 1 debate of the pact council meetings. It was the first major snag the swift secret sessions have struck.

The issue is expected to be taken up again tomorrow. Tonight proponents of admission were predicting that the anti-Communist alliance will admit the two eastern Mediterranean countries; that Denmark will accept the will of the majority.

Denmark's foreign minister, Ole Bjorn Kraft, brought at least a 24-hour suspension in the secret discussion this morning by asking for a "brief adjournment" so he could communicate with his government in Copenhagen.

Norway, linked with Denmark in hostility to the move to protect the coalition far beyond the North Atlantic area, backed the arguments against it anew but said she would not stand in the way of admission if the majority favored it. That left it well up to Denmark, a country of 4,000,000 people.

Tell Plans For Forces

OTTAWA, Sept. 18 (CP).—The government announced tonight Canada's air division will be grouped with American forces when it gets to Europe and said the army has been authorized to prepare the 27th Brigade for movement to the British sector of Germany in November.

The first of 11 Sabre jet fighter squadrons for the air division will leave for England "within a few weeks."

Two Leaders Picture End of All Barriers

OTTAWA, Sept. 18 (CP).—The foreign secretaries of the United States and the United Kingdom today envisaged the emergence of a North Atlantic community embracing free movement of citizens and close links of transportation, communication and trade.

This peek into the future was made by Dean Acheson, U.S. secretary of state, and Herbert Morrison, U.K. foreign minister.

Mr. Acheson, in a speech prepared for delivery over C.B.C. Trans-Canada Network, said:

"I think we can anticipate an increasing sense of community among the nations of Europe and North America. Our first aim is to develop a community in which the individual can be free from fear. Beyond this, we look forward to the day when a citizen from any one of our countries may travel freely... anywhere, throughout the Atlantic community... and enjoy the same basic rights and opportunities as the people he visits."

Mr. Morrison went further. In a speech to the Canadian Club, he said:

"I am sure that we should look forward to the day when in the fullness of time there will be a common citizenship for all the peoples in the North Atlantic community, with all the barriers to thought, travel, trade and understanding swept away."

That was the most far-reaching observation by any delegate to the North Atlantic Treaty organization on the long-term objective of the 12 pact countries, though External Affairs Minister L. B. Pearson of Canada has spoken of the possibilities of an "Atlantic Federation."

Proposed Addition to Gorge Road Nursing Home

This is an architect's sketch of the proposed 100-bed addition to the Victoria Nursing Home on Gorge Road. The addition would cost $450,000. Ottawa and the provincial government each have agreed to put up $150,000. Nursing home society wants city to raise its $150,000 share through a money by-law to be presented to the voters at the December elections. Ald. Mrs. Margaret Christie says the city should use the $150,000 it recently got through the sale of Pandora Avenue property to Woodward's Stores.

By G. E. Mortimore

Many Island people don't like the British Columbia Telephone Company.

A recent column criticizing the company brought in a record volume of letters. They contained few kind words for the company.

"I must tell you how heartily I agree with everything you have written," said a lady on Jasmine Avenue.

"It so happened that we were on our vacation over the time the monthly bill was delivered as well as the deadline date. Not more than a week later, the day we returned home, the operator informed us that we had three days left to pay up, or else."

"She was as nice as it was possible to be under the circumstances, and I fully realize that she was doing what she had been told to do, but still it was infuriating to me as I had never before let the account go over my payment date."

This reader, who is connected with the Colquitz exchange, says many of her neighbors are annoyed by "the terrific length of time the subscriber has to wait before the operator even asks for your number, let alone the length of time a person has to wait after the number has been given."

"After 6 p.m. it is not even certain that you will receive service until 10 minutes of 'hanging on' has elapsed. A person phoning for the fire department, police or a doctor could easily be done for under these circumstances."

"Having at one time operated a P.B.X. (exchange) for a large company here, I can quite often excuse the odd wrong connection during the busy hours. In truth, often wrong numbers are the fault of the subscriber. However, speaking from experience, these frequent delays during the evening hours seem to me to be nothing more than sheer laziness at the switchboard end."

A Killarney Road reader says he also blew his top when a telephone girl phoned a demand payment of a bill not long overdue.

"As a matter of fact, my bill for that month included some long distance calls belonging to someone else, and I immediately wrote and politely advised them to this effect."

"The phone call a week or two later was the next thing to happen. I was compelled to write to them that for sheer arrogance and ignorance they had no equal. I then got a proper bill and paid it. They had the nerve to phone and advise me that when a mistake like this occurred they did not send out a corrected charge."

From Cordova Bay comes a complaint that the company snatches your phone as soon as you move out.

"If you are removing from a home where you have a telephone and your good friend of undoubted financial worth and standing is moving in at once to the home you have vacated, and he has previously had a telephone, they force you to sign an order to remove the phone from your former residence, regardless of your desire to have it left for your friend's use without interruption."

"An office staff of a monopoly seem to get the idea 'we are the people' and as you say, bad manners and brusque, high-handed dealing are all too evident. The days of 'the public be damned' are all but over."

"I am not an advocate of public ownership and do not hold with you in the idea that provincial government or any other government ownership is the answer."

"Years ago in an American city there used to be cards attached to telephone instruments reading, 'Beware—this telephone is dangerous.' It meant that people needed to be doubly courteous over the telephone because the hearer could not see the twinkle in one's eye or the expression on one's face... and it was easy to pick up a wrong meaning from 'dead pan' words."

"In other fields salesmen go out and create good feeling and friendship for a company, only to be spoiled of its effect by the casual, unfriendly, don't care attitude of the company's office secretary, cashier or staff. Why not a campaign for good manners and a smile from the office staff?"

Doorman Pleads Guilty to Taking Car

An hotel doorman was arrested yesterday by police and charged with taking a car without the owner's consent and driving without a current driver's license.

Arthur Impey, 1748 Davie, pleaded guilty to both charges in city police court and was remanded to Friday for sentence and a probation report.

Police said Edith W. Weeks, Journalist from Utah, gave her car keys to Impey at the Empress Hotel with instructions to have the car serviced.

Accused was later picked up by police after driving the car 62 miles.

Preliminary hearing on a charge of murder against Daniel Leroy Sanger, 66 Simcoe Street, was set for Sept. 25.

The charge arose out of the death of 24-year-old Gwendolyn Dora Casswell, whose body was discovered in Sanger's James Bay apartment on Sept. 10. A. P. Dave appeared for the accused.

Roy Johnson, 1127 Catherine Street, was fined a total of $85 and had his driver's license suspended for violating conditions of a restricted license and for speeding.

Frank G. Skillings, 3366 Cedar Hill Road, charged with driving was impaired by alcohol, was fined $200.

Magistrate H. C. Hall also prohibited accused from driving for three months and for a further period of nine months except for business purposes.

Chinese Red Raps Pact As Traitorous Document

TOKYO, Sept. 19 (Wednesday) (INS).—China's No. 2 Communist leader today denounced the San Francisco Treaty as a "traitorous document" and said his government would never recognize it in any way.

Foreign Minister Chou En-lai charged that the Japanese Peace Treaty and the Japanese-American Security Pact "already are" traitorous.

Chou's broadcast over the Peiping radio was interpreted by diplomatic observers as a Red blast to pay the way for China's invasion of the Sino-Soviet treaty of alliance and mutual assistance concluded February 14, 1950.

The Communist leader angrily accused the United States of "planning a still more extensive war of aggression against the East" by rearming Japan and reviving Japanese imperialism.

He said the San Francisco Treaty and the U.S.-Japan Security Pact constitute preparation for a new war.

Under the Sino-Soviet Mutual Alliance Treaty, China and the Soviet Union pledge to "take all effective steps to prevent new aggression" by Japan or "any nation directly or indirectly bound with Japan."

The pact also provides for mutual assistance.

Small-Hospital Drug Handling Under Attack

VANCOUVER, Sept. 18 (C.P.).—Unqualified persons dispensing drugs are endangering lives of patients in small British Columbia hospitals.

Members of the B.C. Pharmaceutical Association Council made this charge today at a public hearing of the special legislative inquiry board investigating B.C.H.S.

"In hospitals there is a growing tendency for dangerous and potent drugs to be distributed by nurses and others not competent," F. H. Fullerton, manager of the association said.

He charged that the government is enforcing the Pharmacy Act in respect to civilian stores, but condoning violation of two federal and one provincial statute by small hospitals.

He also charged that small hospitals are making a profit on B.C.H.S. by refusing to pay for patients' prescriptions.

He said small town druggists are forced to bill patients after the hospitals refuse to pay, even though the hospitals are receiving funds from B.C.H.S. to cover these prescriptions.

Oddities

TOKYO, Sept. 18 (Reuters).—Sgt. Joseph M. Schonberger returned from a patrol today to find he had received a Valentine card from a girl friend—25,300 miles, 19 months and one wedding too late.

Schonberger, from Junction City, Kan., got the card, enclosed in three travel-stained envelopes and looking like a travel folder, after returning from behind enemy lines with the 1st Cavalry Division's reconnaissance company.

The Valentine followed Schonberger to Okinawa, on to Manila, back to Okinawa, across the Pacific to Camp Stoneman, Calif., east to Chicago, west to Albuquerque, then to Junction City, back across the Pacific to Japan and finally Korea.

The postscript on the card read "Please don't wait as long to write as I did."

Schonberger grinned and said "It's signed Mary... my wife's name is Alice."

DIURETIC MAY BE YOUR NEED

when you're slightly "OFF YOUR FEED"

Endless, sluggish feelings often indicate your body needs aid in getting rid of waste matter. Millions of people find Kruschen Salts give them happy relief in such cases. There are two reasons why Kruschen does this. First, Kruschen is a gentle yet effective laxative. Second, Kruschen is a diuretic; it promotes healthy action of the kidneys. Thus, Kruschen Salts work quickly and thoroughly, to help you enjoy the pep and zest that come with complete cleanliness "inside." Try a little Kruschen in your morning beverage when needed... see how it helps to brighten the day!

Q Should I use a standard or premium gasoline in my car?

A That depends on the make of your present car. All new Dodge engines are designed to operate with maximum performance and top efficiency with ordinary gasoline.

Q How can I judge the amount of chalking my car requires to start under varying weather conditions?

A Unfortunately, you cannot. But new Dodge cars are equipped with an Automatic Electric Choke which makes starting easier—particularly in cold weather, and avoids wasteful overchoking.

Q If my foot brake should fail will my parking brake still operate?

A Yes, if you own a Dodge. The Dodge parking brake is completely independent of the foot brake, operating on a drum of its own—fastened to the propeller shaft. When the propeller shaft is locked, the wheels cannot turn. In many cars the parking brake operates on the two rear drums of the foot brake.

Q In face of the high cost of body repairs, why don't all cars have detachable fenders?

A It would seem that some manufacturers have sacrificed the practical for styling. All Dodge fenders are bolted on and are easily removed to facilitate replacement or repair.

Q How can I stop my gas lines from clogging with dirt and water?

A With most cars there's no sure way. You might try draining and cleaning out your tank from time to time. In cold-weather areas, keep your tank well filled as this reduces the amount of condensation. With a 1951 Dodge, of course, you cannot experience this annoying trouble. The new Dodge is equipped with an Offline fuel filter located in the gas tank which keeps the entire fuel system free from dirt and water. It's self-cleaning, too, from the swishing action of the gas in the tank.

Q Why is rear seat riding in some cars so tiring?

A That's because a low, sloped-back rear seat places you in an uncomfortable position without support under and behind the knees. Dodge's high seats, both front and rear, give you proper knee and back support—let you ride long distances in comfort.

Q How can I best protect my engine from the dirt and abrasives which collect in the oil?

A You should install an efficient oil filter, if your car is not so equipped. Not only are all Dodge cars out and recent models equipped with a highly efficient Micronic Oil Filter as standard equipment, but all Dodge models give you added protection with a Floating Oil Intake. This type of intake draws only the clean oil from just below the surface, preventing both surface foam and bottom sludge from entering the oil lines.

Senator Urges Complete Atom Forces

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (INS).—The congressional atomic energy chief declared today that U.S. ability to produce A-bombs is limitless and urged creation of an atomic army, navy and air force.

Sen. Brian McMahon (D-Conn.), chairman of the joint congressional atomic energy committee, asked a $5,000,000,000 expansion in atomic weapons production, bringing the cost to at least $6,000,000,000 a year.

Meanwhile, Congress completed action on a $5,800,000,000 military construction program which contains funds for secret A-bomb bases overseas, ringing Russia's heartland.

House approval of the program, which authorizes $1,000,000,000 for bases in North Africa and elsewhere within striking distance of the Soviet Union, broken... There is virtually no limit upon the number of A-bombs the United States can make.

Sen. McMahon insisted in a Senate speech that military tactics must be revolutionized in keeping with the atomic age and America's breathtaking A-bomb potential. The Senator declared:

"Atomic bottlenecks are being and, elsewhere within striking would save the taxpayers $30,000,000 to $40,000,000,000 annually because atomic weapons are the best and cheapest means of preventing war.

"I propose an atomic army and an atomic navy and an atomic air force in the place of the conventional defenses we now maintain to the tune of $50,000,000,000 or $60,000,000,000 a year."

Call Off the Hunters

IT would appear that forest officials made a bad error of judgment in allowing hunters access to the woods while the fire hazard remains acute. An unwise gamble that weather conditions might change has been lost. Hunters are therefore loose in tinder-dry areas where the least carelessness can have disastrous consequences.

A salutary example is the forest fire now raging in the Mount Benson area, which already has destroyed vast timber footage and which is alleged to have been started by the negligence of hunters. The immense loss to the province this year caused by forest fires and the suspension of logging might well have made officials pause before they increased the natural risk by allowing the woods to be invaded by individuals bent only on shooting game. Loggers are understandably angry at this additional threat to their livelihood.

The woods are much more important to British Columbia than hunting, which is secondary in all respects and is purely recreational. A ban this year on hunting would in fact have been in the hunters' own interests. Forest fires could easily wipe out more game than could their guns, and a closed season might assure them much better hunting next year.

There is no need for the error to be perpetuated, however. Hunting can be stopped, and while forest conditions are as hazardous as they obviously are the safe thing to do would be to close the woods. There can be no trifling with a primary industry for the sake of a day's sport.

Cash-and-Carry Milk

SAFEGWAY COMPANY OF CANADA is doing a service to urban communities in British Columbia where milk prices are controlled by the government by putting squarely before the provincial milk board the question of a differential on cash-and-carry milk sold from stores. Up to the present the board has given the impression that it would like to dodge the issue. It may find it difficult to do so now that one company has brought the matter to a head by applying for permission to sell milk in Victoria and Vancouver stores for less than the government-set price for home deliveries.

The schedules in force in this province set one price for each grade of milk, regardless of whether it is bought over a store counter or delivered at the doorstep. Obviously it costs substantially more in wages and vehicle upkeep for house-to-house delivery than it would to supply in bulk to stores equipped to hold milk in cold storage, as most neighborhood stores now are; and this paper has long maintained that consumers should have the right to choose between having milk delivered the easy way and saving a cent or two a quart by going to the store for it.

Consumer groups have frequently asked the board to recommend the establishment of a price differential, but have been fobbed off with rather vague excuses, to the effect that such a system might not be practical and that it might not be possible for distributors to allow any saving to the public. For five years the board has refused to give the differential plan the trial it deserves.

Well, one large company now says it is prepared to sell milk at less than the retail price. It does not say at the moment how much per quart the saving would be to the public, but quotes Winnipeg as a city where application of a differential reduces the delivered price by 2 cents. The board, with this application before it, must now say yes or no. If it approves the establishment of a differential, there will be an opportunity to see whether consumers really are prepared to walk a few blocks to get milk cheaper. If the board turns down the application the public will certainly want to know why.

Out Go the Reds

COMMUNIST efforts to infiltrate and dominate the activities of trade unions in this country received another body blow this week when the Canadian Congress of Labor expelled the International Union of Fur and Leather Workers from membership in the nation-wide organization. This action brings to three the number of unions publicly disowned by the C.C.L. on the ground of Communist domination. Previously thrown out were two powerful unions, the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers and the United Electrical Workers, with a combined membership of 45,000 allegedly controlled by Communist officers.

The overwhelming majority by which final expulsion of the fur and leather workers' union was endorsed by the C.C.L. convention in Vancouver this week is a clearer intimation than any speeches could convey that the C.C.L. is determined to pursue to the limit its campaign to rid its affiliates of subversive influences. In this it will have the backing of all loyal Canadians. There is not much danger of the Kremlin Communists seizing control of the labor movement in this country when an organization with the weight of the C.C.L. takes such an uncompromising stand against them.

ARROGANT ATTITUDE

Sir.—Hats off to Mr. G. E. Mortimore! By his wonderful indictment of that agglomeration of arrogance, the B.C. Telephone Co., he has put into words what has been in the minds of thousands for a very long time.

As the whole is equal to the sum of its parts, it is realized that the entire make-up of this outfit is the creation of a majority of its employees, aided and abetted by wealthy shareholders. This is demonstrated in their dealings with the public from day to day.

Very few of them can refrain from displaying the same arrogant attitude adopted by the woman which provoked Mr. Mortimore's very fine outburst.

ARTS CENTRE

Sir.—The Daily Colonist has taken such an astonishing stand in the recent generous offer by Mrs. Spencer and her family of the house on Moss Street as a centre for the arts I feel that I cannot stand by voiceless whilst what presumably are "big interests" call the tune to kill a worthwhile project.

There are an enormous number of young people in Victoria who are not entirely interested in hot dog stands and the movies. Of course these are fine in their time and place but there are many young people, especially in these restless times, who long for a deeper interest and an opportunity to meet interesting people and learn from them.

There has been this wonderful opportunity to provide what so many enquiring minds are seeking, practical arts. The present arts centre is run by efficient, far-seeing and financially sound people. Why not back them for the sake of keeping an alert community or do you wish the whole community to die from lack of intelligent young people. Don't let the almighty dollar kill a real enterprise this time.

OLD-AGE PENSIONS

Sir.—It is said that the rich are applying for the federal pension granted at the age of 70 years or over. The rich could, of course, do a great deal of good by using that extra $40 monthly for the benefit of poorer relations. As a regular contribution to the Protestant Orphanage or other

Christian organizations for their church; for anyone in need, friend or stranger, such as the old-age pensioner at present needing $3 a month to pay for necessary medicine which the pension board no longer supplies free, and to help homeless or sick animals. "By doing good, we get good."

There will be many in need if the $10 added by the province of British Columbia is no longer granted. And if a tax of 10 per cent is imposed by the federal government in order to meet the new old-age pension for all, it will be amazingly hard on those who are entirely dependent upon the present $40 a month. They will indeed be in a bad way, for the pensioner already pays a 6 per cent tax on his goods, a 5 per cent tax on 20c goods, a 4 per cent tax on 25c goods, none of which, under a 3 per cent tax, should be taxable. Nothing under $10 should be taxed, even this would be a trifle over 3 per cent.

Persons of 65 years and over should be allowed to work, and to receive the $10 pension. No picking should be permitted. It is largely the unions which cause the ever-rising cost of living and services. They should not be able to prevent the over 65's working for pay, while able.

ABOUT MILK STRIKES

Sir.—Re the statement in your paper, "Milk Strike Threatened." These people, I take it, are those who take the milk from the farmer, many of them I warrant do not know the right side of a cow. It is not the farmer who is making the money. When I think of the children who are deprived of the milk they need because the parents cannot afford to pay for it.

When I think of the thousands of dollars that are tied up in machinery and equipment for the handling of milk, which is added to the cost, then they threaten to strike; the farmer cannot strike, the cows have to be fed and milked twice a day seven days a week.

I love to think of the days when the milkman came around with a large can and measured out the milk, then we got pure milk. Now we are awakened with an awful clatter at an unearthly hour in the morning. "I think it is high time we put a stop to this strike business and think of those who are made to suffer thereby."

Thinking Aloud

"... of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

THEY were staring at me from Oak Bay High annual, a baker's dozen of splendid young animals in soccer toes. My eyes ran professionally down their legs—and then I had goose pimples.

Most of the legs were bare right down to the hose wrinkled round their neat tops.

Ye gods, I thought. No shinguards! Times must have changed. Either the game has softened or these fresh-looking young boys are ten times tougher than I was at their age. I would no more have thought of stepping onto a soccer field with my shin bones unprotected than I would of jumping in front of a fast-moving train.

I tremble, therefore, at their hardihood, unless it be that they and their opponents are more gentlemanly than the fry I graduated among.

Many a time and oft, indeed, even the ribbed guard backed with felt didn't wholly smother the agony of a blocked leather toe hitting right where it hurts most delectably. Pain and ecstasy, you know, can be sort of intermingled.

I'll say this much for myself, though, that shinguards were my only protection. Soccer players wear other supports, some visible and some not so apparent, but I never could abide them, often to my extreme physical regret. The impact on a tender portion of a boot or even a football at close range can be mighty salutary.

But, there they are, these young Oak Bay heroes, seemingly scornful of a scraped tibia or any other bruising threat. They make me feel feeble.

Photographed for another sport, however, they would take on another look. Even their mothers would scarcely recognize them were they dressed for, say, Canadian rugby, ice hockey, or lacrosse.

Haven't you ever smiled, to yourself of course, at the ungainly swollen bodies of these particular athletes. They're monstrosities. Only the bare heads (if they don't wear helmets) make them human, and these seem oddly tiny thrusting out of grotesquely padded shoulders.

It's as well, though. Especially if they play lacrosse.

In hockey, now, there's need for lots of padding, aye and shinguards too. But for persistent poking at the other fellow's body lacrosse takes the cake. (Canadian football, for a variety of reasons, we'll leave out of the discussion.)

I've never peered under a lacrosse jersey, never having been close enough to do so and anyway I'm a polite bloke, but if they don't wear iron plates over their kidneys lacrosse players are more heroic even than the Oak Bay youngsters. I'm looking at.

There was no chance I should ever play lacrosse, but if there had been the penalty box, I'm afraid, would have known me well. Sad, alas, but probably true. How these Shamrocks keep their tempers when jabbed fiercely and continuously in the back I'll never know.

A sudden impulsive smack on the arm, or on the head, I can understand, having suffered the old black eye myself in my own heyday, but that nag, nag, nag in the small of the back—not for me, not for me.

Now I'm lost. I was all steamed up to philosophize on the accoutrements of battle (for aren't they battles?) in which modern athletes are perforce encased—but I've got off the track and my space is nearly full.

Ah well, this brings me back to the Oak Bay High picture: these nice young chaps, all clean and shiny, sitting there as happy as larks, bare shins and all. Once I sat in similar school groups but I'm beginning to think maybe we weren't half as smart, looking as these young champions, even though every mother's son of us had his legs religiously fattened out with pasteboard and cotton batten.

The Japanese Treaty and Afterwards

By SIR GEORGE SANSON

SIR GEORGE SANSON went to Japan in 1904 and except for service in the 1914-18 war remained there until 1940, holding a number of United Kingdom diplomatic appointments. He was minister at the British Embassy in Washington from 1942-47, and British member of the Allied Far Eastern Commission. He now holds the chair of Japanese studies at Columbia University.

LONDON.—Criticism of the Japanese treaty voiced in some quarters might give the impression that there is something seriously wrong with the treaty itself, but paradoxically it is a sign that, on the whole, it is a good instrument.

No multilateral treaty can give equal satisfaction to all parties on all points. Where there are many different and conflicting interests, all that can be hoped for is the greatest common measure of agreement upon the principal aims of the treaty, even at the cost of disagreement upon subsidiary questions.

In considering its shortcomings, critics of the treaty are apt to lose sight of its main purpose, which is not to settle all outstanding issues in Eastern Asia but to prepare the way for their discussion. The apple of discord is large enough to justify more than one bite.

It is clear that the first step had to be to end the state of war with Japan. The occupation has gone on long enough. More than a year ago it was already beginning to show diminishing returns, and to have continued it would have been to adopt a dangerous policy of drift.

It is in the general interest that Japan should regain her political and economic independence. Of course that involves some risk. She may revert to authoritarian government and to strongly nationalistic policies, despite the theoretical and practical lessons in democracy which her people have been given during the occupation.

The dangers are real, but a harsh treaty would not lessen them. The consequences of the Franco-German Treaty of 1871, the Versailles Treaty and even the recent treaty with Italy have shown that a nation cannot be bound indefinitely by obligations accepted under duress.

The American and United Kingdom governments in drawing up the peace treaty with Japan, have wisely abstained from punitive and restrictive conditions and have done their best to guard against the growth of a feeling of bitterness in Japan. Admittedly it is always possible for unscrupulous statesmen to create a myth and foster a national sense of grievance, but no kind of treaty can legislate against that, and nobody should count upon gratitude in international affairs.

In the long run Japan's foreign policy will depend upon her view of her own best interests. The present treaty merely clears the stage, by giving her a fair chance to recover her self-respect, and to re-enter international life under favorable conditions. She is committed by the preamble of the treaty to apply for membership to the United Nations, to conform to the principles of the charter, and in trade and commerce to conform to internationally accepted fair practices. More specific engagements would be of doubtful value.

Though the treaty has been described as "generous" or "soft," it has to be remembered that its territorial clauses, while just in principle, are severe in their effect. Japan loses all her overseas territories, all "special rights and privileges" that she formerly enjoyed on the Asiatic mainland. She is therefore left with far smaller resources than before the war for support of a much greater population, now well on the way to 90,000,000 and growing fast. Japanese competition is an undeniable menace, especially to a country where production costs are rising, but it cannot be met by agreements between governments, or protectionist devices. Moreover, the overriding interest of the allied powers must surely lie in the rapid development of the Japanese economy.

Japan is at the crossroads now. If she cannot provide and maintain a fair standard of living for her people—and this can be done only by foreign trade—it is very likely that her government will revert to authoritarian practices, applying to economic, political and social life in turn rigid controls which might lead the country perhaps to the extreme right, perhaps to the extreme left, but anyhow in a direction un-

Who's on First?

(From The South Daily Star)

CANADIANS seem prone to quick irritation at instances of ignorance, amongst their American neighbors and British cousins, of things Canadian—people, climate, government and life in general.

The other side of this coin gets little Canadian attention. It seems to be taken for granted that Canadians on the other hand are—at least by comparison—reasonably well informed about things American and British.

Maybe this assumption is unwarranted. It should be shaken, at least, by the experience of a local radio station, which in one program asks a daily question of listeners.

The other day the question was: "Who is the British prime minister?"

Of the first dozen letters opened, only one had the right answer. Several named Mr. Churchill. A couple picked Anthony Eden. One even avowed that Britain's destinies were in the hands of "Prime Minister Eisenhower." How a sensitive Briton would squirm at that one!

Smoothest talker of the season was the fellow who persuaded his wife to accept an outboard motor in lieu of a new summer outfit.

While dressing, a man staying in a North of England hotel wished to summon the chambermaid.

The only bell he could find was in the bathroom. He rang several times without result. Later, having dressed, he encountered the chambermaid in the corridor and reproached her with having failed to answer.

"Which bell did you ring sir?" she asked.

"The bathroom bell."

pleasing to the Western democratic powers.

Furthermore, to restrict the economic growth of Japan would be to delay the development of the other Asian countries, to which Japan can make a valuable contribution.

It is not difficult to justify the treaty clause by clause and to show that, although no country is entirely satisfied, it is as good a working compromise as can be expected in such a multiparty agreement. It can even be argued that neither Chinese nor Russian interests have been neglected.

It is certain that once the treaty comes into force, strong differences of opinion on foreign affairs will appear in Japanese political life. Disputes will centre mainly upon rearmament; upon the stationing of American troops in Japan and upon future relations with China and the Soviet Union.

OF GREGORY CLARK

While Visiting Britain

BARBARA Ann Scott is appearing in London at the moment in an ice fantasia based on Rose Marie. The "huge" Harringay ice arena seats each night and four matinees a week anywhere from six to ten thousand people. Loudspeakers carry the music and dialogue of the play to the audience while Barbara Ann and a very large company including her fellow Canadian and superb skater, Michael Kirby, perform the scenic action of the Canadian operetta, all about Indians and Mounties.

At one stage of the show, a chorus of 40 Mounties, not the real thing, of course, but a pretty good imitation, in their scarlet tunics and wide stetsons, come flooding out on the ice to perform a marvelous piece of ice choreography, wheeling and gyrating in fantastic representations of the famed musical ride which the real Mounties do with their horses.

The London audience nearly goes crazy with excitement. Nobody will ever know, I suppose, how much real romanticized publicity Rose Marie has given Canada in the past 20 years, nor how many men, women and children have been attracted, from all parts of the earth, to Canada as a consequence of the romantic appeal of this one operetta. But when you hear the roars of applause from the great arena at Harringay, it gives you leave to wonder that the R.C.M.P. might ever want for recruits from Britain.

In the midst of the spectacle, Barbara Ann, a little Dresden figure of intense artistry and beauty, floats superbly. Canada and its individual provinces spend large sums of money advertising Canada in many parts of the world. But we must not forget the little job of advertising being done, 10 arduous shows a week, by 23-year-old Barbara Ann Scott.

Urge Business, Industry To Keep Schools in Mind

By The Canadian Press
Business and industry, always concerned with their supply of raw materials, should pay more attention to the source of their most important raw materials—people.

This is emphasized, in effect, in the report of the Canadian Research committee on practical education, a four-year study to which business, along with other sections of the community, contributed.

The report stresses the need for more thorough grounding in essentials; but it also emphasizes that the pupils' eye should be opened to the fields of wider general knowledge—science, literature, art—so that he may know what is there to be pursued.

The report recommends further: Parents, teachers, and all community groups should assist the pupils in choosing an appropriate career, and in later grades there should be a variety of elective course, supplementing a sound general education.

Special Treatment For First Plant

EDMONTON, Sept. 18 (CP). — Mines Minister N. E. Tanner said today that Alberta Government will be prepared to give "some special consideration" to the first commercial plant in operation in the province's oil sands area.

He answered critics by oil company representatives and others that the newly-announced policy on royalties and leases didn't provide capital with enough incentive to risk trying to exploit the oil-saturated sands.

Mr. Tanner did not spell out what special consideration might be given the first commercial plant.

Questions at Coalition Meeting Raise Voices and Temperatures

A lively question period which raised a few voices and a few temperatures brightened the Langford Coalition meeting last night at the Community Hall.

Facing a largely friendly audience, Premier Byron Johnson, speaking on behalf of Coalition candidate Mayor Percy

It is not true that the 3 per cent tax helps to keep down property taxes on people like Logan Mayhew's land," the man asked.

The premier termed it a "smart-aleck" question and refused to answer.

In a preliminary talk, Premier Johnson said that the confidence shown in the government by outside investors.

He listed many of the 34 points of the Coalition manifesto, including the P.G.E., the port of Squamish and the "most spectacular one," the Alcan project at Killam.

"We have tried to complete our pledges to the people of B.C.," he said.

DISTINGUISHED
He described Mayor George as a "distinguished man" whose record was his highest recommendation.

Dwelling on the hospital insurance scheme, the Premier called it a "Godsend," which did not warrant the criticism leveled at it.

Mayor George said he had decided to offer himself for the candidacy because of an "urge to step into a broader field of public service."

He defended the Coalition government and urged those who were over-critical to "take off your colored glasses and have faith in those who serve you."

NOTHING FOR NOTHING

"The solution, I believe, is along the line we are traveling," he said. "Remember, you can't get anything for nothing."

The chair waited the no speech rule for a brief and cheery moment when an elderly man who said he was a member of the C.C.F. party rose to his feet and commented the government on the 3-per-cent sales tax.

"It's the best thing that ever happened for B.C.'s old people," said the man. "Believe me, I hate to say it, but it's true."

His assertion that the Liberals were moving closer to the C.C.F. platform brought considerable merriment from the audience.

Questioned on the wisdom of a subsidy on milk, Premier Johnson said he would be reluctant to subsidize any commodity.

PROPERTY TAXES

One man asked whether property taxes wouldn't be a more equitable way of raising money from the 3 per cent sales tax.

Industry Welcomed

A welcome to all industry in Central Saanich was issued last night by Central Saanich Council.

The welcome arose from application by D. S. Polson to erect a lumber mill on his property near the Saanichton wharf. Council declared that no zoning laws prohibited the mill and that other industries would be welcomed in any part of the area.

A fresh note to the tired arguments about fire trucks was added to the meeting when council extended a vote of thanks to Reeve Sydney Pickles for his work, along with six associates, in preparing the area's new fire truck for service.

Council also appointed a committee to investigate actions of other councils in area regarding erection of comfort stations at Verdier Park; ordered a checker-board traffic warning erected on Oldfield Road near the intersection of Keating Crossroad; referred a complaint of speeding cars on Verdier Road Peden Lane to the police chief; ordered purchase of two fire sirens from Rossland at a cost of $375 and return of the present siren to Peace River; voted to issue cards to all residents giving direction in case of fire.

Mrs. G. W. Kissick, president of the B.C. Liberal Women's Association, said those who criticize the government "unreasonably would be just as unreasonable if they were trying to run it."

She decried the tendency toward "splinter groups" within political parties and declared that such action "weakens the democratic structure of the government."

HEARST IN THE NEWS

JUAREZ, Mex., Sept. 18.—A suit was filed yesterday in civil court to annul the marriage of George Randolph Hearst, son of the late publisher William Randolph Hearst, and his wife of six months, Sandra Ranbeau Spencer. It is based on the grounds that the marriage, allegedly was contracted before Hearst's divorce from Sally Hearst, his former wife, became final.

Ulster Wins Dominion Soccer Crown As Draw Gives Them Edge Over Scots

MONTREAL, Sept. 18 (CP).—Toronto Ulster United won the 1951 Dominion soccer championship tonight through a 2-2 draw with Vancouver St. Andrew's in the final of the three-game series.

The first was a one-half Saturday, and last night's game went to Ulster 2-1. Ulster takes over the title won by Vancouver City last year.

It was a tight battle all the way tonight and the Ulstermen held their hands full holding off the speedy Vancouver team through the second half. Vancouver needed a win to prolong the series. A crowd of about 1,600 saw the game, played under lights in chilly weather at the Westmount Athletic Grounds.

Johnny Douglas, who scored both goals last night, and Hugh Suttie were the Ulster scorers. Art Hughes and Big John Halley tallied for Vancouver.

KEPT UP ATTACK
Playing against the wind in the first half, Vancouver kept up a continuous offensive and dominated the play until 10 minutes before the interval.

Jack Spry and Halley were in close for several good shots and Don Matheson was off the mark with his hurried shot at an open net. At one time, goalie George Anderson of Ulster had to dive out for a sensational save on Halley's shot. Suttie led most of Ulster's early offensive play.

It wasn't until 38 minutes that he got the half ended headed in the first goal, but the St. Andrew's team fought back and two minutes later Hughes scored from a corner by Spry. Just before the half ended Douglas missed on a second attempt at a header.

Six minutes after the second half started, Suttie scored from close range on Jack Long's free kick to put the Toronto team ahead. Ulster threatened again a few minutes later. With goalie Bob Newbold on the ground, Buster Cairns, Vancouver's right fullback, raced in to save on a hard shot by Tom Smith.

Select Group To Try Out For U.K. Team

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP).—The Amateur Athletic Association has picked 101 candidates for the 1952 British Olympic track and field team.

The list includes 79 men and 22 women who are considered capable of reaching or bettering the minimum performance standards set up by Jack Crump, the team manager.

Among the standards for men are 21.5 seconds for 220 yards; 4:12 for the mile run; six feet four inches for the high jump; and 13 feet six inches for the pole vault.

Another feature attraction will be a display by Barbara Hutton, star of Esther Williams' water ballet at Hollywood, in the world's largest portable tank, measuring 70 feet by 30 feet.

Also on the program will be an attempt by Doug Hepburn of Vancouver to break his own world weight-lifting record, the showing of two $5,000 dogs, a bathing beauty review and a fashion show. Display booths around the arena will show the latest in sporting goods and equipment for all sports.

The arena was a scene of activity last night with 30 workmen erecting the tank and 100-foot stage. Evening shows will

Wittenberg And Bud Ward Win Best Ball

PORTLAND, Sept. 18 (CP).—The team of Marvin Bud Ward of Great Falls, Mont., and Bill Wittenberg of Portland today won the annual Pacific Northwest Pro-Amateur Best Ball golf tournament.

They carded a spectacular nine-under-par 63 on the final 18 holes. That, with yesterday's 64, gave them a total score of 127.

Tied for second place were Tommy Ely and Dick Yost, both of Portland, 69-62-131, and Oscar Ellason and Ernest Althuser, Tacoma, 67-64-131. After them came Tom Roucher and Jim Mallory, Seattle, 65-67-132.

Benny Cole and Walt McElroy of Vancouver finished in a six-way tie for 11th place with 68-36-137.

Stan Leonard and Bob Kidd of Vancouver tied with four others for 28th place with 71-35-141.

Rocks Confident Of Evening Series

Victoria Shamrocks will be the underdog for the first time this season tonight when they oppose Vancouver Combines in the sixth game of the Inter-City Lacrosse League final at Vancouver, trailing 3-2 in the best-of-seven series.

Shamrocks must win to force a seventh game at New Westminster on Friday. Defeat will mean that they will stow away their equipment until next season and watch Combines oppose Peterborough Petes in the Dominion final, starting next week.

Despite their poor showing on Monday when they suffered a surprise whipping on their home floor, Shamrocks are still confident that they can take the series, according to reports from coach Arnie Ferguson and manager Ralph Baker. All players visited a chiropractor yesterday and are ready and eager to meet Combines tonight.

PLAY OUR GAME
"We will go all out to win the game in the first quarter," Ferguson stated last night. "Monday night we will be in uniform tonight."

Archie Browning, Larry Booth and Tom Druce will form one forward string with Duff McCaghey as rover. Henderson will back the other string of Bob Monaghan, Art Green and Darrell Popham. Norm Baker will again be used for utility.

Defensive combinations partner Ferguson with Red McMillan and Len Scott with Norm Coates. Bill Andrews will again be between the posts.

Estimated 100 fans will travel to Vancouver by plane and boat to give support to the Rocks in their crucial game.

Tom White of Calgary and Jack Fox of Vancouver have applied for a license to promote professional boxing in Vancouver.

A Puchel machinery firm has offered a thousand silver dollars for the gloves worn by Ray Robinson in his victory over Randy Turpin.

Bobby Locke has returned to South Africa but will visit the United States in February and return to Britain for the British Open golf meet next July.

Vienna riot squads quelled a chair-throwing crowd of 8,000 protesting fans disappointed over a showing of Prince Charles at the stadium. Seats were broken and fences torn down.

Spokane Flyers have signed Bev Bentley as a replacement for goalie Jerry Fodey.

Stan Musial of St. Louis Cardinals and Ned Garver of St. Louis Browns are leading the voting for the first annual award for sportsmanship in the major leagues.

Stars Tie Up Coast Series

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 18 (CP).—Hollywood Stars sent the Pacific Coast Baseball League final with Seattle into the fifth and deciding game tomorrow by beating the Rainiers tonight 4-3. Veteran Jack Salmons, relieving starter Ben Wade in the sixth, got credit for the victory. Both clubs have won two games.

FAMOUS BOWLER
Frederick Spofforth, Australian cricketer who died in 1926, took 10 wickets for 20 runs in a match in England in 1878.

FAN FARE
"I just love the way he whistles up his nose!"

RIGHT COMBINATION
"These youngsters and the spirit of the veterans have proved just the right combination to make this year's Detroit Red Wings a very dangerous threat for another N.H.L. title."

Coach Tommy Ivan was even more certain.

"I've never seen such a hungry bunch of players," he said. "The way things are going now we should take over first place by a comfortable margin."

City Hunters Fined For Violating Rules

FIVE Victoria hunters were fined a total of $75 in provincial police court yesterday for infractions of hunting regulations last Saturday.

Charges were levied by Game Warden Robert Sinclair against Thomas Harkness, 3856 Douglas, and F. G. Simpson, 631 Pandora, for shooting willow grouse out of season. They were both fined $15 and costs.

CHARGES OF CARRYING A pump gun not permitting plugged against O. C. H. Wiggins, Patricia Bay; Edgar F. Ellis, 3003 Cedar Hill Road, and Dennis Kline, 2344 Bridge, also drew $15 fines and costs.

Sport Outlines Plans For Honoring Minor Leagues

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 18 (AP).—More than 1,000 baseball men will troop into Ohio's capital Tuesday, September 17, for the Golden Anniversary meeting of the minor leagues.

George M. Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues (the minors), made the estimate today as he outlined plans for the sessions during which the draft for all clubs outside the majors will be held.

Among the top legislative matters on the agenda is a discussion of the "Pittsburgh" problem. Trautman said. The Westerners would like to have relief from the major league draft and some would like to boost the circuit to major league status.

A four-run spurge on five hits in the sixth inning sped the Indians to their victory. Mike Garcia weathered a stormy ninth inning to post his 20th victory before 20,824 Boston fans.

Ellis Kinder made his 59th relief appearance of the season for the Sox when he replaced starter Bill Wright in the sixth. He added two more scoreless innings to his string which started Aug. 17.

The Cardinals also had a big inning, scoring five runs in the fifth as they joined the Dodgers. The Redbirds backed Tom Poholsky's eight-hit pitching with three

ROYAL VISITORS TO SEE HABS PLAY RED WINGS
MONTREAL, Sept. 18 (CP).—A change is being made in the National Hockey League's 70-game schedule to make it possible for Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh to see a game here.

The touring British royal couple will see Detroit Red Wings play Montreal Canadiens October 22. Monday games usually are played in Detroit but in exchange for the home date, Canadiens will play the preceding Saturday in the motor city.

The 1951-52 season, third to feature 70 games, will open in both Montreal and Detroit October 11 and Jose March 23. Chicago Black Hawks will play in the Montreal premiere, while Boston Bruins will be in Detroit.

Holders of the Stanley Cup, Toronto Maple Leafs, will play host to Chicago in their curtain-raiser October 13. The sixth N.H.L. club, New York Rangers, will see action first at Chicago, October 14.

Boston will have its first home game October 14 against Canadiens, while the New York Rangers will be 10 days later against Bruins.

SAANICH DOWNS FERNWOOD TO TAKE ONE-GAME LEAD
Saanich took a one-game lead in the best-of-three series for the city bantam box lacrosse championship by defeating Fernwood, 11-2, at Stevenson Park yesterday. Winners led 6-0 at the half.

Second game will be played at Stevenson Park Friday starting at 6.

Des Johnston and George Robinson split eight goals to pace the Saanich attack. Brian MacCoshan and two Vic Lindall were the other scorers for the winners. Ed Kowalyk and Bob Caldwell tallied for Fernwood.

Fernwood captured the city juvenile "B" championship and the Victoria Sporting Goods Trophy by defeating Oak Bay 11-6, at Stevenson Park Monday to win the best-of-three series in straight games.

NOTCHES FOUR
Ed Longpre led the winners with four goals. Steve Foster had three, Art Binks two, and Walter Davis and Noel Boston one each. Scorers for Oak Bay were Graham Bugg and Dave Edgar, with Two each, and Pat Peterson and Bill Gosling.

The juvenile "B" all-star team will hold a workout at Stevenson Park tomorrow at 6. The practice is being held in preparation for the coming sudden-death game with the mainland winners for the B.C. title.

All players in the bantam and juvenile "B" all-star teams are requested to turn in their birth certificates.

All pee wee players who have not yet handed in their equipment are requested to do so as soon as possible.

MINOR HOCKEY ASSURED
Doug Fletcher, president of the Victoria Minor Hockey Association, announced last night that any reports that minor hockey will not operate in Victoria this season are false.

He said that the association will operate in every division. "At no time have I ever stated to anyone that minor hockey might not operate this season," he exclaimed.

Only change is that the Vancouver Island Junior Hockey League will not be able to operate in the same way as last season. It is still hoped to arrange games between Victoria and Nanaimo all-star teams. It is believed that the Navy will not enter a team.

Fletcher said that the association has taken over the Gladwell Meteor franchise in the Commercial Hockey League. Dick Irving and Frank Sargison, manager and coach respectively, of Meteors, last year will remain in their positions.

IRWIN HOMERS
Monte Irwin's 22nd homer with one about in the fourth proved the winning margin for the Giants. The Reds scored three runs in the ninth and had the tying and winning runs on base before reliever George Spencer saved the victory for Dave Kosin.

Ex-Yankee Tom Byrne pitched and batted St. Louis Browns to a double victory over Washington Senators in a doubleheader that had no bearing on the American League pennant race.

Byrne tossed a three-hit 8-0 shutout and hit a grand-slam homer—the first of his major league career—and the first of the season for the Browns in the opener. He hit a pinch-hit in the tenth inning of the nightcap to drive in the winning run and give Ned Garver his 17th victory.

WOMEN ENTER SEMI-FINALS AT OAK BAY
Play in the Victoria Golf Club women's championship advanced into the semi-final stages at the Oak Bay course yesterday.

Medalist Mrs. H. G. Means defeated Mrs. R. O. Alexander, 7 and 5, while Miss Marjorie Todd, defending champion, also advanced by defeating Mrs. Harold Husband, 4 and 3. Other results of the championship flight: Mrs. H. Patterson defeated Mrs. V. S. Godfrey, 2 and 1; and Mrs. G. E. Harris defeated Mrs. A. I. Pidgeon, 8 and 6.

The semi-final round will be played at the Oak Bay course tomorrow. Draw and starting times follow:

CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT

12-05 Mrs. Patterson vs. Mrs. Harris
12-05 Mrs. Alexander vs. Mrs. Husband
12-05 Mrs. Godfrey vs. Mrs. Pidgeon

BELOW BARE RECORD
Kiner still is far below Babe Ruth's record of belting 40 or more home runs in 11 different years in American League play.

Ruth hit 54 homers in 1920, 59 in 1921, 41 in 1923, 45 in 1924, 57 in 1926, 60 in 1927 (major league record), 54 in 1928, 45 in 1929, 49 in 1930, 46 in 1931 and 41 in 1932.

Here's Kiner's home run tally for the last four years:
Fifty-one in 1947, 30 in 1948, 54 in 1949, and 47 in 1950.

If Kiner wins the major league home run championship this year, he'll become the first player to achieve that peak five years in a row. He now is leading Gil Hodges, who has 38 homers.

BEAVERS SIGN ST. MIKE'S, MARLBORO MEN
SAINT JOHN, N.B., Sept. 18 (CP).—Saint John Beavers tonight announced the names of two more members of last season's Toronto St. Mike's team and three from the Toronto Marlboro camp who will play with Saint John this year.

The former St. Mike's players are right winger Jack Meldrim of Edmonton and defenseman Harry Pautka of Kitchener, Ont. The former Marlboro trio are defenseman Howie Lee, winger Al Buchanan and right winger Ron Hurst.

Moneton-Hawks, another Maritime major hockey league club, also announced the signing of new players. Those signed for tryouts include goalie Jackie Gibson, last with Saskatoon Quakers

No Decision on Hearing For Management License

A question mark still hangs over the possibility of a public hearing on the application of the East Asiatic Company (B.C.) Ltd. for a forest management license covering 132,000 acres on the Gold River watershed area on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

C. D. Orchard, deputy forests minister, said yesterday he did not know yet whether the expense of a hearing would be justified. Protests against the application had been received from Blodet, Stewart & Welch and Canadian Forest Products, rival companies, and the whole matter is ready for cabinet consideration, he said.

APPEAL ALLOWED
Following cabinet action a period of 30 days is allowed for appeal from the decision.

Dr. Orchard disclosed that a large number of forest management license applications are continually being similarly protested. Sometimes the protests are dropped and sometimes they can be reconciled. The utmost effort is made to explore every avenue before putting the people of British Columbia to the expense of holding a public hearing.

A public hearing on the East Asiatic application depends on how the matter develops, stated Dr. Orchard.

He said that only some 35,000 acres is disputed in the East Asiatic application.

AFTER BID MADE
It was learned also that the protesting companies filed application for licenses after application had been made by the East Asiatic Company.

The East Asiatic Company owns large tracts of timber on Vancouver Island's west coast and is understood to control logging and milling operations of the Tanais Logging Company and Gibson Brothers Logging Company on the west coast.

The forest management license together with privately owned land would provide the company with a sustained yield operation sufficient to warrant building a pulp and sawmill and possibly a plywood plant.

Tenders Close On New Church Next Monday
Tenders for the construction of the new St. Barnabas' Church at Begbie and Belmont close with architects Birley, Wade & Stockdill at 5 p.m. on Monday.

Cost of the unit is expected to be about $25,000. It will have a seating capacity for 200 and will be of stucco and brick exterior. It will be completed in about six months.

The new structure will feature laminated trusses similar to those used in the construction of the new Cadboro Bay church.

Outlines Salesmen's Success Formula

Let them know who you are and who you represent, put them at ease, then convince them they need what you are selling.

This is the success formula for salesmen, John Vickers, general sales manager of Sidney Roofing & Paper, Co. Ltd., told the Kiwanis Club yesterday.

"Sow the seeds of dissatisfaction with what your prospective customer has or uses," Mr. Vickers advised salesmen, "then proceed to point out benefits and advantages of your product."

He claimed people buy articles or services for one or more of these reasons: to secure pleasure, for monetary gain, to avoid pain, or avoid loss.

"And salesmen must always remember that a deferred order is his competitor's greatest opportunity," he said.

DIRECTOR

ELECTRICIAN

Figure 1 is a line graph showing the relationship between the number of eggs per female (Y-axis) and the number of females per egg (X-axis). The Y-axis ranges from 0 to 100, and the X-axis ranges from 0 to 100. The graph shows a positive correlation, with data points clustered around a diagonal line. The legend indicates: Males (solid line), Females (dashed line), and Eggs (dotted line). The Y-axis is labeled 'Number of eggs per female' and the X-axis is labeled 'Number of females per egg'.

Mrs. F. Moore Of Royal Oak Dies, Aged 92

One of the first white children born on Vancouver Island, Mrs. Fannie Moore, died yesterday at the home of her nephew, C. M. O'Neill, 2859 Heath Avenue. She was 92.

Mrs. Moore was born on the Royal Oak farm of her pioneer parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Austin Williams who came to the Island from Kent, England, in 1853. She is survived by an older sister, Mrs. J. W. Morley, of Victoria, who is 91.

MRS. FANNIE MOORE

At 23 she married John W. Moore, an employee of the C.P.R. for 40 years. For many years the couple lived in their first home which still stands on Chambers Street.

Longevity is not unusual in her family. Both her mother and father lived to be over 90. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at Haywards' B.C. Funeral Chapel. Burial will follow in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

Kaesong Trip Renews Speculation

MUNSAN, Korea, Sept. 20 (Wednesday) (AP) - An Allied investigation team went to the Kaesong neutral zone today under circumstances which stirred fresh speculation over the suspended Korean truce talks.

The announced mission was to check on a new Red charge that United Nations troops violated the neutral zone Tuesday. But the fact that newspapermen and photographers were barred from making the trip prompted belief the liaison officers might take up other subjects - such as reopening of the talks.

Newspaper men have been permitted on recent trips which involved only investigation of Red charges. The order barring reporters from making this morning's trip came from Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters in Tokyo.

The investigation team set out from this Allied advance base camp in Western Korea for Panmunjom in the Kaesong neutral zone. The Communists, in their latest charge, said four U.N. "military personnel" yesterday entered the neutral zone by crossing the bridge at Panmunjom. The Reds did not further identify the military personnel and did not say whether they were taken prisoner.

The Kaesong truce talks were suspended Aug. 23 by the Reds who charged that an Allied plane the night before bombed the zone in efforts to "murder" the Red negotiation team. This was investigated and denied by the Allies.

Since then the Reds have made many such charges. New Weekly In Bulgarian

Dr. Coleman Named Envoy to Brazil

OTTAWA, Sept. 18 (CP) - Canada today named Dr. E. H. Coleman, 61, long-time senior civil servant in Ottawa, to be ambassador to Brazil.

He joined the diplomatic service in January, 1949, and has been ambassador to Cuba since. In Rio de Janeiro, Dr. Coleman succeeds J. S. Macdonald, 55, who has been posted to Yugoslavia.

TO GO TO SWISS SCHOOL

LONDON, Sept. 18 (Reuters) - Edward, Duke of Kent, 15-year-old nephew of the King, is to go to Switzerland this fall to help him over a sinus complaint. It was announced last night. A statement from his mother's home said he has for some time been suffering from severe chronic allergic sinusitis and rhinitis. He will go to a Swiss school.

Second Design Contest Seeks Canadian Ideas

OTTAWA, Sept. 18 (CP) - In need of cash? Design a new idea for a door knocker, house number, letter box or bell push and perhaps you'll win $1,000.

Or you might try creating something fine and modern in the line of chairs and writing desks and get a chance to share in a total of $7,000 in prize money.

That's the amount of cash Canada's National Industrial Design Committee offered today as it launched a new country-wide contest to build up industrial design talent in Canada.

The contest is open mainly to professional designers, but anyone can enter as long as he understands the technique of mass production and the economic possibilities of marketing his product.

The new competition, which closes next Jan. 15, covers the products of both wood and aluminum:

1. A chair made basically of wood or plywood for use in Canadian homes.
2. A chair made basically of aluminum for use either in homes, gardens, restaurants or offices.
3. A writing desk made basically of wood or plywood for a small home or apartment.

Naval Officer To Receive Full Honors

Lieutenant Commander Thomas Mackay, D.S.C., who died September 12 of injuries sustained in an automobile accident in the United States, will be buried with full naval honors at Vancouver today.

Chaplain Thomas Bailey of H.M.C.S. Discovery, Vancouver Naval Division, will conduct services in the chapel of Simmons & McBride Funeral Home. Burial will take place at Forest Lawn Cemetery.

A crew of 30 men will pull a naval gun carriage bearing the casket from the cemetery gates to the graveside where a 23-man guard of honor will be mounted. Ships and establishment throughout Pacific Command will fly their colors at half mast during services.

Lieut. Cmdr. Mackay was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for his part in the sinking of a German submarine by the destroyer H.M.C.S. St. Laurent during the Battle of the Atlantic in 1943.

He was soon to have taken command of the Halifax-based frigate H.M.C.S. Laflamme. At the time of his death he was a member of the staff of the naval member of the Canadian Joint Staff, Washington, D.C.

Mr. Miles said today that the report gave a wrong implication. He said that manufacturers must tender according to the instructions to bidders.

However, he added that in his opinion it might be advantageous to western manufacturers to also state, as additional information, the home factory price. This might help in cases where some of the goods were to be distributed across Canada.

Safety Patrol Aids 1,000 Cars

Safety patrol officers, sponsored by the B.C. Automobile Association, have helped about 1,000 motorists on B.C. highways, the association reported yesterday.

Assistance has been given to 375 motorists with tire trouble, 564 with minor problems, and other motorists who ran out of gasoline or oil or had ignition difficulties.

Two Missions From Pakistan Studying B.C.

Similarity of British Columbia to certain parts of Pakistan were seen yesterday by members of two missions visiting from Pakistan under the technical co-operation program of the Colombo plan of economic development in south and southeast Asia.

One mission includes A. M. Sial, minister of agriculture and education, State of Khairpur, and Dr. S. Hedayatullah, director of agriculture, East Bengal. The other mission is comprised of eight road-and-bridge specialists interested in transportation and hydro-electric development.

The specialists are the first from any of the participating countries to come here. Lieut. Col. S. H. Khan, of the Royal Canadian Engineers, was particularly struck by the similarity of certain parts of British Columbia to Pakistan.

G. H. Khan, chief engineer for the Kashmir public works department, observed Canada was fortunate to have so much room for its population. "We have 83,000,000 people living in a smaller area," he said.

Members of the missions emphasized their aim is to raise the standard of living in Pakistan. In Victoria, members of the missions are guests of the provincial government. A dinner was arranged at the Empress Hotel last night.

During the day the agriculture mission visited the Dominion Experimental Station, Saanichton.

Clarifies Procedure In Submitting Bids

WINNIPEG, Sept. 19 (CP) - George E. Miles, Prairie liaison officer for the small industries division of the Department of Defence Production, today issued a statement clarifying procedure in tendering for defence contracts.

The Canadian Press, in a report of a meeting in Saskatoon, September 14, quoted Mr. Miles as saying that western manufacturers should first quote the price at the home factory, rather than F.O.B. Montreal or other export points.

Mr. Miles said today that the report gave a wrong implication. He said that manufacturers must tender according to the instructions to bidders.

However, he added that in his opinion it might be advantageous to western manufacturers to also state, as additional information, the home factory price. This might help in cases where some of the goods were to be distributed across Canada.

Culbertson on Bridge - - -

It is nothing unusual for a pair in a tournament to indulge in the fanciest sort of bidding - perhaps the pair has had a bad game and is "shooting for tops." But the following case, which occurred in the Masters' Pairs of the recent tournament in Washington, D.C., is the most remarkable ever to have come to this writer's attention.

Neither side vulnerable.

This was the fantastic bidding at one table:

South - West North East
1 S 1 N Pass 2 H Pass
2 S (11) Pass 4 S Pass
Pass Pass

South seems to have been "psyche" in more than the colloquial bridge sense. His spade opening was strange enough, but his spade rebid, to the exclusion of showing his seven-card diamond suit, defies understanding.

As it happened, South could have made 12 tricks at a diamond contract, and this was actually done at several other tables, although no North-South pair was clairvoyant enough to bid the slam. This psychic South, however, came out even better than the diamond bidders - via this remarkable line of play:

West opened a trump. Declarer cashed dummy's seven trump honors, let the diamond seven to the ace and laid down the trump queen. Accepting the drop of the jack and ten of trumps as nothing more than his due, South then pulled West's last trump. Next, he laid down the diamond king (probably expecting the jack to fall), and when West showed out, declarer let the ten of clubs. It would have been an excellent idea for West to cover the club ten, but he felt sure that South had the ace of hearts and would take a subsequent finesse against West's other club honor, so West ducked. South let the ten ride, and then proceeded to make five odd by running the entire club suit.

Uncle Wiggly Story - - -

WARNED AWAY

The day of Uncle Wiggly's shore picnic in the woods was most beautiful. The sun was shining brightly. There were only a few white clouds in the blue sky. The wind blew gently and was perfumed with the sweet scents of thousands of flowers.

The raft, after many adventures, had been tied up along shore near the edge of the forest where the picnic was to be held. There would be no more raft sailings until next summer. Classes were soon to start in Hollow Tree School.

"But today," said Uncle Wiggly, "we shall not think of school. Everyone must have fun at my shore picnic. Have you the ice cream, cake, popcorn and candy all ready, Nurse Jane?"

"All ready, Mr. Longears," answered Nurse Jane.

"I will bring Swiss cheese," boasted Uncle Wiggly, the grocery store goat.

"That will be fine," said Uncle Wiggly.

Buster, Bunty and all the other animal girls and boys shouted and laughed as they hurried off the raft and into the woods. Uncle Wiggly, Nurse Jane, Boson, the goat and Mr. Turbog, the English bulldog, carried the baskets of lunch.

"I say, Wiggly, you jolly old bunch of carrots!" barked Mr. Turbog. "It will be no end of fun to have a picnic in the woods, eh?"

"I hope you will enjoy it, Turky, you jolly old deer biscuit," answered Uncle Wiggly. Though they called each other names, Uncle Wiggly and Mr. Turbog were the best of friends. It was all in fun.

Not far from where the raft was tied along shore was a woodland picnic grove with many flat stumps for tables.

"Run around in the woods and play," called Uncle Wiggly to the boys and girls when they reached the picnic grove. "Nurse Jane and I with the help of Uncle Butter, Boson and Mr. Turbog, will set out on the stump tables the picnic lunch."

"And there are plenty of toadstools to sit on," said Nurse Jane as she put the ice cream near a spring of cool water where it would not melt. "I will ring a bell when it is time to stop playing and time to eat," said the muskrat lady.

Buster and his boy chums started a baseball game and were soon shouting, laughing, throwing and batting the ball. Bunty and her girl chums played with their dolls under the trees. Boson's doll was the only one that could talk and make music. So, for a time, Priscilla entertained the other girls and their dolls.

"Avast and belay, Cap'n Wiggly, sir!" barked Boson. "I must do your heart good to see the happy children."

"Yes, I enjoy making them happy," answered the rabbit gentleman as he twinkled his pink nose. Then he hopped a little way off into the woods by himself.

"Where are you going, Cap'n Wiggly, sir?" asked Boson.

"I am going to look for a brook where the children may go wading after their play games," answered Mr. Longears. "It must be a safe brook not too deep. I will be back in a little while."

"Be careful, Wiggly," warned Uncle Butter. "You may meet some wild animals and they may chase you."

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the rabbit

Today's quotation: "We are here to add what we can to, not get what we can from life." - Sir William Osler.

Wednesday for everyone: Proceed cautiously, exerting tact and consideration. Be guarded against a tendency to overconfidence, quarrelsomeness, hastiness. Avert upsets; be guarded while en route.

Look for your birthdate and birthsign below:

March 21 to April 19 (Aries) - The financial situation calls for care, adaptability. Rectify mistakes. Be saving of money.

April 20 to May 20 (Taurus) - Win support for your actions.

gentleman. "That will be a jolly adventure." So he hopped into the woods and soon he found a brook that was just right for wading. As he looked into the water, Uncle Wiggly saw a number of creatures like little lobsters. These were crawfish and they had claws that could pinch as jobsters can pinch with their claws.

"But you will not pinch any of my boys and girls, will you?" Uncle Wiggly asked the lobster-like crawfish.

"Before any of the crawfish could answer, a voice from back of a tree yapped a warning.

"Get out of here! Get out of our woods!" warned the voice. Tomorrow I can tell you who gave that warning. And I hope the picture book will tell a nice story to the pussy cat so she will go to sleep without scratching the puppy dog.

before proceeding, rule out undue haste, arbitrary conduct. - May 21 to June 20 (Gemini) - Use your desire for excitement as a spur to get things done. Be forward-looking, poised.

June 21 to July 22 (Cancer) - Put associates first today; but don't neglect daily rounds. Keep emotions on an even keel.

July 23 to Aug. 22 (Leo) - Others may hold the winning card today; sit back; let them direct things.

Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 (Virgo) - Relax, enjoy some sociability. Use care in planning and in transit.

Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 (Libra) - Play the game cautiously with pals, dear ones, especially if savings are in jeopardy.

Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 (Scorpio) - Don't expect much from others; they may be preoccupied or uncooperative. Go your own way.

Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 (Sagittarius) - Beware of haste, impulse, friction. Be diligent about work, service, careful as to diet, health.

Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 (Capricorn) - Cling to activities which promise harmless fun. By-pass escapades, eccentric persons.

Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 (Aquarius) - Use a diplomatic approach toward carping individuals; stay calm. Feelings may run high; go easy.

Feb. 19 to March 20 (Pisces) - Keep moods, temper under firm control; proceed with tact; use caution en route.

Planning ahead - Good for entertaining, sociability, etc.: Sept. 22, 23, 26; Oct. 6, 9, 16, 17, 19, 21.

Premier Byron Johnson will officially open the first annual Vancouver Island Sportsmen's Show at the Arena Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. Show will continue Friday and Saturday.

Prior to the opening a lighted torch in the form of a lion's head will be carried by Y.M.C.A. runners in the same manner as for the Olympic games, from Esquimalt to the Memorial Arena.

Hepburn hopes to break a world weight-lifting record during his program here.

Sgt. E. A. "Smoky" Smith, V.C., awarded the highest decoration for valor in Italy in 1944, will take part in the arena program, manning the army recruiting stand and information booth.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (CP) — The United States' trumpeter swan population has increased greet the runners. The torch will burn for the three-day duration of the show.

The Canadian "Hercules" Douglas Hepburn, will be one of the feature attractions of the giant show.

that an annual census of the rare bird has been taken. This increase over the 376 counted last year was announced yesterday by the Fish and Wildlife Service. The known number was down to 73 in 1935.

Moresby House New Headquarters For Navy Reserve Unit Training

MARINE NEWS

Moresby House, Esquimalt Road, will be reopened Oct. 8 as new headquarters of H.M.C.S. Malahat, Victoria's naval reserve division.

Capt. Ronald Jackson, commanding officer of Malahat, says the large building will provide many more facilities for training of reservists, including lecture

Current strength of the division is 156 officers and men. A substantial boost in this number is the target of an intensive recruiting campaign to start soon. "We hope to have at least 230 including U.N.T.D. personnel with the unit," Capt. Jackson said.

Since general recruiting for the Reserve started recently, some 70 applications have been received by H.M.C.S. Malahat, the commanding officer said. The drive is under way across the country, and the number of women reservists accepted will be in proportion to the division's size. H.M.C.S. Malahat will accept 25.

Two promotions Lawrence D. Mann, of Victoria, and Donald W. Smith, Greenwood, B.C., have been promoted to acting commissioned officers from the rank of chief petty officers. Naval Headquarters, Ottawa, has announced. Both men entered the R.C.N. as

SEA TRAINING

Training of reservists will continue aboard the division's own ship, the minesweeper H.M.C.S. Sault Ste. Marie, Capt. Jackson said.

First drill night of the winter season was held aboard the warship Monday night. Lieut. Cmdr. A. R. Heater, commanding officer of the ship, said the winter program would be announced next week. During the summer Sault Ste. Marie conducted 12 week-end training cruises to B.C. and Washington State ports, and in July carried out a two-week cruise to California ports.

Jukes Terms Inflation Deliberate

Inflation is not a law of nature but a deliberate act carried out in conformity with the rules of international finance, said Major A. H. Jukes in a radio address Monday.

President of the Social Credit Association of Canada in B.C., Major Jukes called monetary value fluctuations "greater injustice than ever conceived" being inflicted by the most dishonest quantity measures in the world. "Government and parliament are now dodging the problem of rising costs. They think they can get rid of the problem by magnifying it," he said.

CROSS PURPOSES

While the prime minister urges Canadians to curtail spending, newspapers, radio and mails are "charged with advertising." The government "calmly announces a further theft of your income by a further rise in the cost of living and then asks the people to buy bonds."

Referring to the "criminal absurdity" of the party system, the Social Credit leader denounced the Solon Low and Premier E. C. Manning brand of Social Credit.

City Horsemen Authorized To Clear Path

Garden City Horsemen's Club was given permission yesterday to clear a bridge path on city property around Elk Lake.

The horsemen will clear away the fallen timber and underbrush cluttering the present path, and will build two bridges over irrigation ditches.

City council's public works committee gave its blessing to the plan and referred it to the Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committee.

Board Will Hear Two I.W.A. Cases

A conciliation board will sit at Vancouver tomorrow on a wage dispute between International Woodworkers of America (I.W.A.) and Interior B.C. logging operators.

To be heard are cases of the union and the northern Interior Lumbermen's Association and Southern Interior Lumber Manufacturers' Association, the board announced yesterday.

The I.W.A. recently rejected a proposed wage increase of 20 cents hourly and charged operators with a "breach of faith and a complete doublecross." About 7,000 workers are affected.

Shortage of Housing Seen Growing Worse

TORONTO, Sept. 18 (CP). — O. J. Firestone, economic adviser to the Department of Trade and Commerce and the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, predicted today that by 1955 the housing shortage in Canada may be "even greater than it was at the end of the Second World War."

CONSTIPATION GONE —CHANGED MAN!

"Constipation made me sullen all day. What a change since I started to use ALL-BRAN regularly! Even my wife notices it!" Marc Aureille Savard, 24, Blanche Ave., Ville Montmorency, Que. One of many unsolicited letters from ALL-BRAN users. You, too, may expect to overcome constipation due to lack of dietary bulk if you follow this advice: eat an ounce of crisp, KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN daily, drink plenty of water!
